Organizations are embarking on a modernization journey with the goal of automating their network and its operations. An integration strategy is often put in place to automate end-to-end workflows to drive cost efficiencies and rapid time-to-market. However, this effort can take time and resources. Skylight Analytics can now simplify automation and end-to-end workflows by quickly integrating with your organization's business applications using an embedded IPaaS.

Challenges Solved:

Skylight Analytics can now integrate with 1000+ applications to:
- Automate end-to-end workflows
- Accelerate time to revenue
- Improve organizational efficiency
- Reduce CapEx and OpEx

Why it Matters and for Who:

Workflow automation is paramount to increasing productivity and accelerating time-to-market. The integration of monitoring tools and business applications benefits operations teams as it increases the operational efficiency and decreases notification fatigue and manual tasks. By integrating Skylight with Workato IPaaS, we help organizations lower their CapEx investments and OpEx.
